CLASS HISTORY

In 195, we started through night school with forty four members in our class. We elected Junior Marshall president, Mary, Dietsen, the president Milited Kopp, secretary-treasurer Patsy Sites, reporter and Marsha Hoot man student council representative. Mr. Sixip was our lass advisor.

We entered our sopnomore year with thirty eight members. We elected Marvin Dietsch, president, Jim Herman, vice president Laver e Mast, secretary-treasurer and Mildred Kopp, student council representative. We gave a welcome party for the freshmen. For money making activities we sold Christmas cards and had a stand at the Homecoming.

Our junior year we had 31 members. Mr. Stauffer was our class advisor.

Jim Herman was elected president. Wendell Goebel, vice president. Parbara.

Herman, secretary-treasurer, and Marilyn King, student council representative.

SHIRLEY CLOSE

Some of our activities were bake sales and a cleanup day. We had no jumor play because the old gym was torn down and the new one wasn't yet completed

Our senior year we had thirty members. As president we cleated Leren Bromeke, vice president, Kenneth Weisz secretary, Marilyn King, and student council representative. Barbara Herman, Mr., Anderson was our class advisor. We directed our activities toward making enough money to go to New York. We said salt water taffy and magazine subscriptions. With the able assistance of Miss Krill and Mr. Koenn we presented our senior play. 'Stars in Their Eves During the second semester, some of our college-minded students took scholarship exams. Laverne Mast ranked highest in the class and was named valedictorian. Shirley Close was saidtationian, and Wendell Goebel was historian.

BICK STIGE CREW

Our school is indeed indebted to many who do their part to see that everything is done to make school a pleasant and enriching experience.

Mrs. Mast, pictured above, very capably handles the affairs of the school office.

Drivers of the buses - eight in all - accept the responsibility for transporting the many boys and girls who live in the country to school safely and on time. In the pictures to the right are Alfred Wortkoetter, Gottlieb Kimpel, Herb Kruse, Howard Robinson, Willard Frager, and Elmer Weisz. Marvin Sacher and Bob Wehrle, whose pictures do not appear on this page, are also bus drivers.

The building is bright and shining - thanks to the efforts of Janitors Pierce and Bunting.

Tending to the appetites of the students are cafeteria cooks (not pictured) Mrs. Mildred Kepler, Mrs. Frances Sanders, and Mrs. Cecil Herman.

THE LOG OF E STAFF

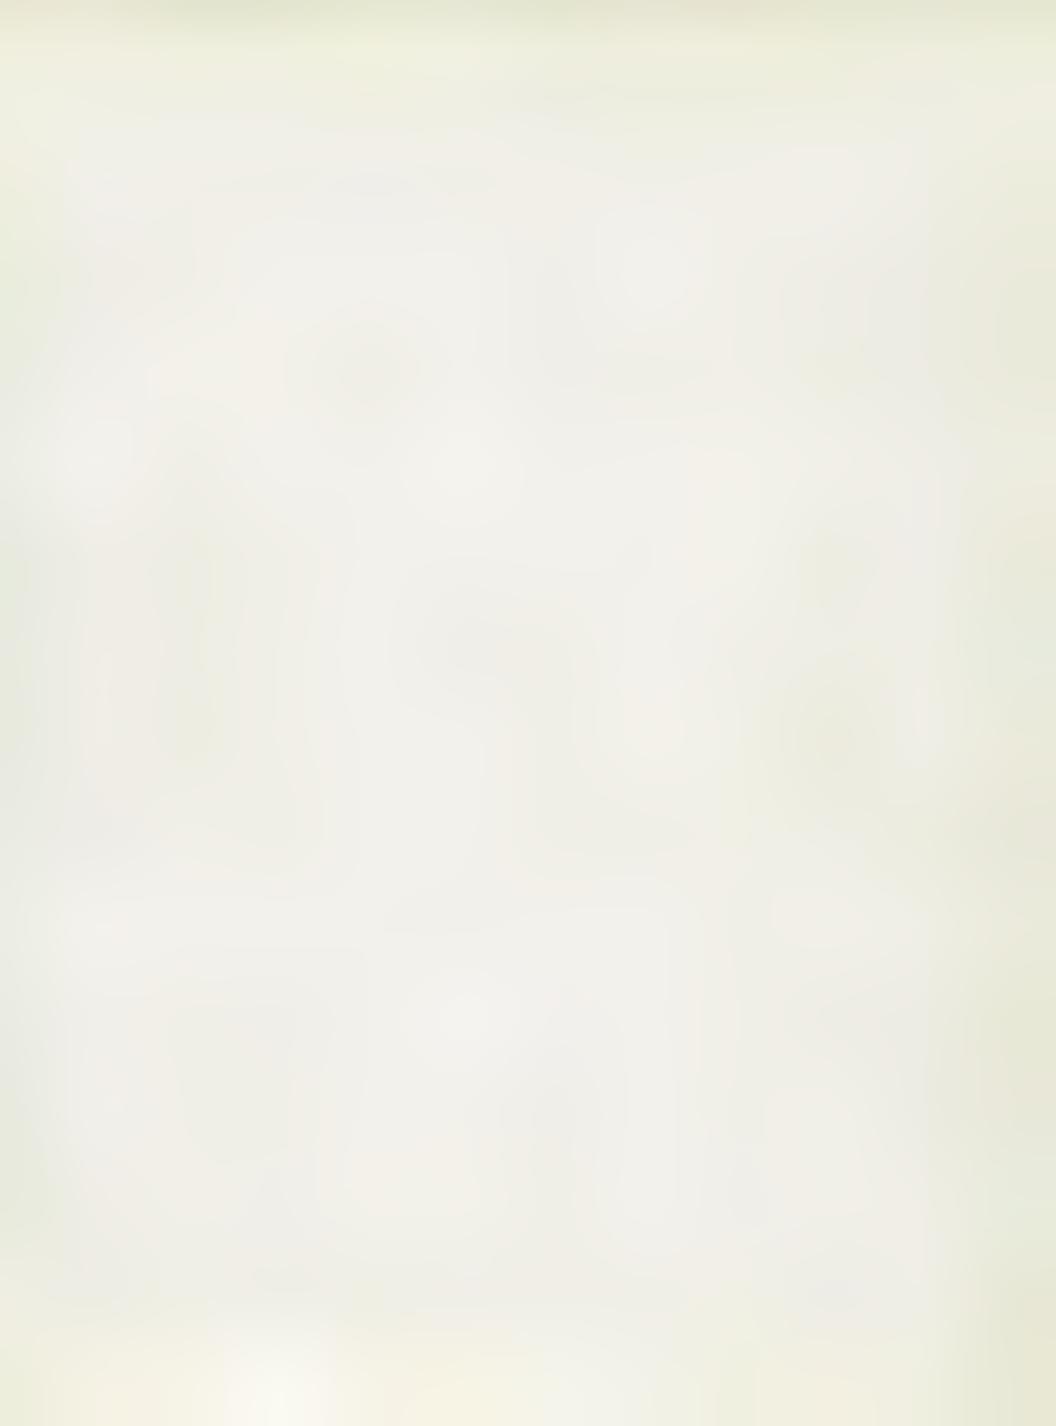

We, the men bers of the 1955 Log of E Staff, hope that this issue of the Log of E will become a cherished one of your possessio is and that you will find precious memories hidden in this book for many years to come.
